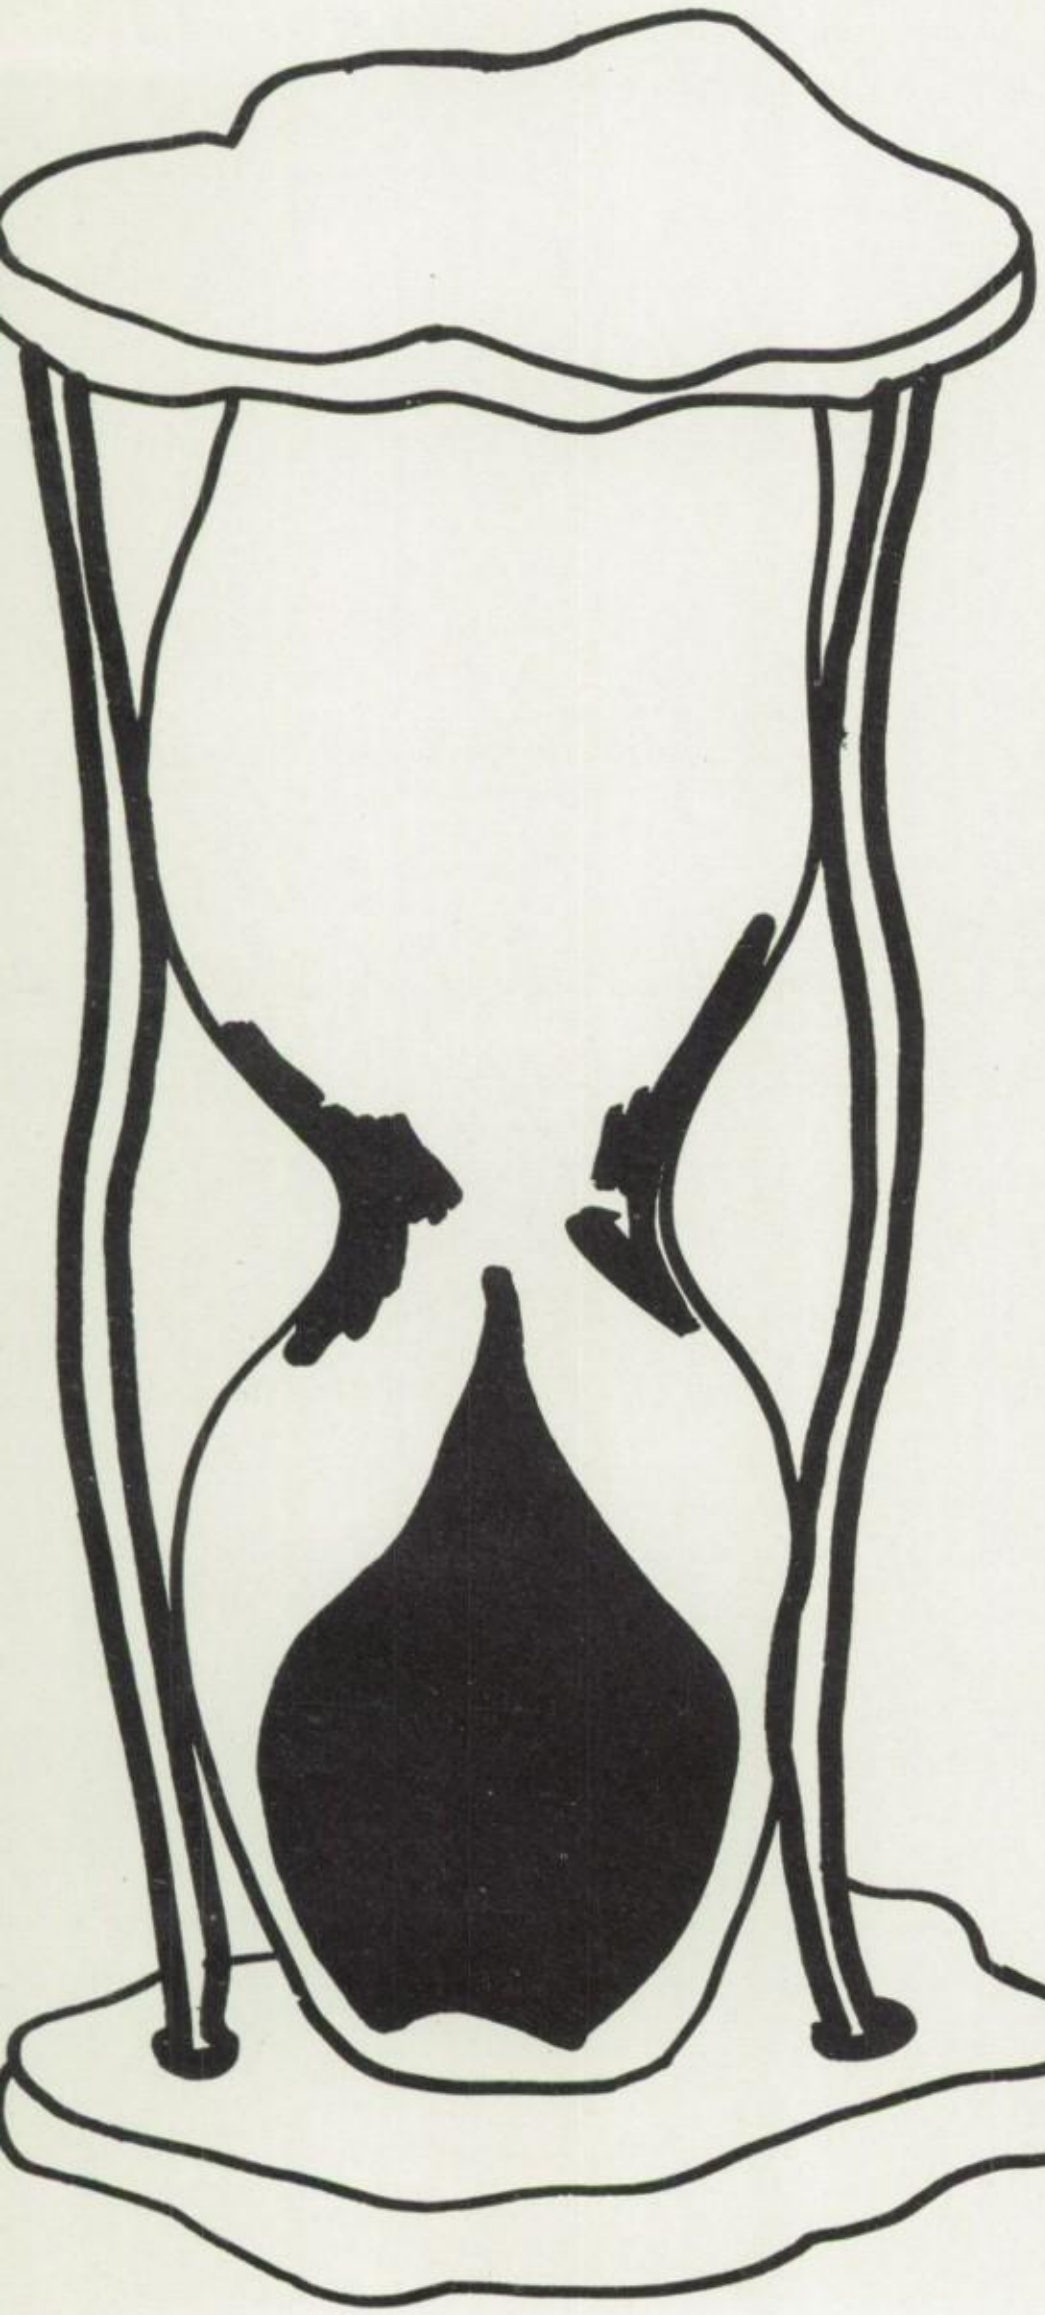
THE WHITE C

1964

Alexis Williams



1934

We will all remember the portals at the start of our day. The classroom, the staircase, the corridors, the athletic field, the voices, the faces, the places, time and events. Each a light lit, a glowing reminant of an ageless time. All an eternal flame of eventful days past, but, too, a flickering oath that each torch lit shall in some way be a brief reminder of promises to keep from an age gone in the new one beginning.

Although many events have happened in the past years, the tragedy of November 22, 1963, will probably in a universal sense be sadly remembered as a time of universal grief--a great man died a pointless death, John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

We, the Annual staff of 1964, dedicate this yearbook, "The White C," to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy. He brought to the country a new spark, full of vitality, versatility, and a vital concern for the youth of a youthful nation. He did not simply exist, he lived. May some of the excerpts from his speeches remind each person of the duties and responsibilities that one has as an individual in today's world. May the wisdom shown bring an awareness of the fact that no person can just exist; they too must live in an appointed way.

"Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans--born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of their ancient heritage..."

"The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it-- and the glow from that fire shall truly light the world."

"The cost of freedom is always high--but Americans have always paid it."

"Old men shall dream dreams, young men shall see visions. And where there is no vision the people perish."

"There is an appointed time for everything--a time to be born and a time to die--a time to love and a time to hate--a time of war and a time of peace--."

John Fitzgerald Kennedy--great in life, even greater in death.

"Don't let it be forgot, that once there was a spot, for one brief shining moment that was known as Camelot."

Our 1964 yearbook is published in memory of the 35th President of the United States.

The Student Librarians perform many tasks. They can usually be seen shelving or checking-out books. They are also a great help to the freshmen who do not know how to use the Library.

The Librarians attended the South Central Student Librarians Association at Southwestern, Illinois. The guest speaker was a foreign exchange student from Italy, who was attending Jacksonville High School.

At the end of the year the Librarians enjoyed a cook-out at the home of one of the members. Since most of the members were Seniors it was also a farewell to them.

"Welcome" by Junior Class President

Senior Quartet

What's wrong Connie?

Still at work?

Busy Beavers

Margaret Ballard serves Mr. and Mrs. Johnson at the banquet.

Both mothers and students enjoy refreshments at the after-prom party.

John Claflin, Margaret Kirbach, Jane Cunningham, Jim Osborn, Bruce Carter, Karen Gourley, and Nancy Tuey act as servers at the Junior-Senior Prom.

After the "feast" at the banquet there is a noticeable lack of seniors at the refreshment counter.
